What is the taxable event?

We have two programs, our LLC program and Promissory Note program.

- Our LLC program produces a K-1
- Our Promissory Note program produces a 1099

Is my the 15% guaranteed?

While no investment is ever completely without risk, your investment is secured by the asset itself, as you are listed as an owner on the property. Additionally, investors receive their principal investment back before any profits are distributed to the company. Since 2008, we have maintained a 100% success rate in returning investors' capital along with their expected ROI.

Why is your exit strategy different?

Our exit strategy stands out because we take a multi-faceted approach to selling our properties, increasing the chances of a successful and timely exit. While we do work with local realtors to list each property on the market, we also heavily market the property ourselves through our internal network and investor channels, ensuring maximum exposure.

In addition to traditional sales, we leverage our Rent-to-Own Program to help individuals and families with less-than-stellar credit transition into homeownership. Through this program:

1. We place qualified tenants into the property with a structured rent-to-own agreement.
2. We connect them with a credit specialist to help repair and improve their credit.
3. Once they are mortgage-ready, we refer them to an FHA lender to secure a first-time homebuyer mortgage.
4. As a firm, we apply a portion of their rental payments toward their down payment, making homeownership more accessible.

By utilizing multiple strategies simultaneously, we increase our ability to exit properties efficiently—whether through a standard sale or by creating new homebuyers through our Rent-to-Own Program. This approach not only enhances our success rate but also provides opportunities for families who may not otherwise qualify for homeownership, making it a win-win for both investors and buyers.

What happens if you can't sell the property I am invested in?

All properties are underwritten for income as well as appreciation. Our goal is always to sell at the highest and best possible price. Due to our experience and having navigated market highs and lows, we underwrite every property with a worst-case scenario mindset—assuming that it may not sell. This ensures we are already prepared for this event when conducting our analysis prior to purchasing. As such, if we need to rent out the property instead of selling it, we are fully prepared, having already factored in rental income and all related expenses.

Generally, we are out of most properties within 12 months; however, real estate is unpredictable, and we cannot guarantee that all properties will be sold exactly at the 12-month mark. That being said, some properties may be sold sooner than anticipated, while others may be sold later. Regardless, our focus remains on maximizing returns and minimizing risks for our investors.

Currently I am not liquid but I do have IRA money, can I use that?

Yes, we have relationships with a couple Self-Directed IRA companies (The Entrust Group & Equity Trust) and are listed on their platform. We can direct you to these companies and help you get set up.

If you currently have assets at a Self-Directed IRA company outside of the ones we are associated with we will work with you to get the necessary paperwork to them to get the investment “approved” with their compliance and due diligence teams.
